

SECTO DESIGN'S MAIDEN VOYAGE TO CSI MIAMI

Secto Design, known for its wooden lamps, is exhibiting in the American edition of the Cruise Ship Interiors Design Expo (CSI) for the first time this June.

Welcome to our booth 747

CSI Miami, 6–7 June 2024

Miami Beach Convention Center, Florida, USA

Secto Design has a solid connection to the cruise ship industry, as Finland, its homecountry, has a long history in shipbuilding with many leading international shipping companies relying on local shipyards. Having developed a close collaboration with the shipbuilders' subcontractors, Secto Design benefits from their in-depth industry expertise in its product development.

Exported to over 80 countries worldwide, the lamps are carefully handcrafted in the company's own factory in Finland, where the innovative use of local PEFC-certified birch meets sustainable production methods.

The iconic lighting collection combines timeless Scandinavian design with the warmth of wood, perfect for creating an elegant, nautical atmosphere that appeals to cruise ship passengers.

After receiving an enthusiastic reception at the Cruise Ship Interiors Design Expo in London at the end of last year, Secto Design has decided to continue to explore the cruise design industry in Miami. Secto Design will also be present at Hotel & Resort Design South (HRDS), the hotel product sourcing and networking platform held at the Miami Beach Convention Center at the same time.

Contact:

Salme Salokannel

PR and Communications Manager

tel. +358 40 125 3156, salme@sectodesign.fi

Press images:

sectodesign.fi/inspiration

Secto Design is a Finnish family-owned company specializing in modern hand-made design lamps from high-quality certified local birch. The authentic Secto Design wood lamps are sustainably and ecologically produced in Finland. The entire lighting collection, consisting of 29 different models, is designed by the award-winning architect Seppo Koho.